Apart from privileges for the closest family, at the beginning of the year each member may indicate three persons from his family (apart from the spouse and children under 12), who will have the right to visit the Club (together with the Club member of his spouse) up to two times a year and play golf then free of charge (green card required).

SIERRA GOLF CLUB GOLF COURSE

The golf course owned by the Sierra Golf Club was designed by Cameron Sinclair from Scotland. During preparatory works a landscape model was created using a cutting-edge GPS system. The natural landscape was enriched with numerous hills and valleys, streams and backwaters were cleaned and broadened. The golf course area was drained, and all usable area was equipped with an integrated, computer watering system.
